Goal

- ★ To teach the children about the moral values of Jesus' Gospel, using tools that will encourage them to think, feel and act.
- ★ Invite the children to feel that they are part of a group that seeks respect, love and moral development, so that together we can build a better world.

Description and Characteristics

- ★ Need a lot of creative and hands on activities, such as: games, theater, role play.
- ★ Although bilingual, they usually prefer classes in English.
- ★ They are able to read independently, which allows for projects that are more detailed and elaborated.

Description and Characteristics

- ★ They are highly active and need physical activity, but also enjoy meditation.
- ★ They like to participate and be part of a community.
- ★ Some of the children like to present their work to their parents and peers.

“A Lesson On Diversity”

Do you have any additional characteristics to add to this list?

Main Challenges

- ★ Large age gap within the group, different levels of maturity and understanding.
- ★ They need lots of different activities and strategies within the same lesson, in order to keep them engaged.

Activity suggested:

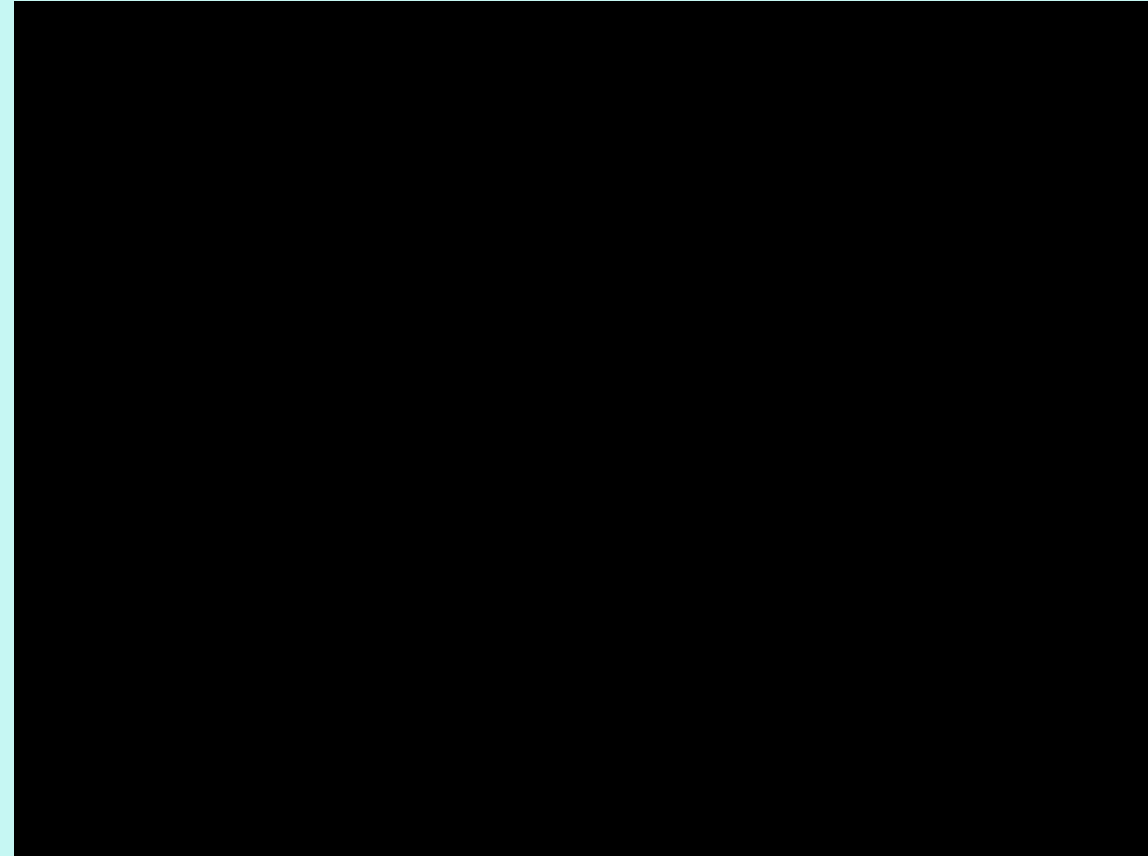

Jesus' Friends
